they all said you were great, and mostly they cried.

it was an awful nice party.

I was really very sorry to get the news this morning.

You have been a very special person here at HRW and your kindness, grace and unflinching good humor as well as the willingness to have your ear bent will always be in my memory. You have made me feel very welcome here.

Apart from wishing you all the best, I'd love to have lunch with you just one time. Perhaps we can arrange it at a day convenient for you- at the Morgan Library.

Let me know.

As always,

Ernest
