

*Katherine Osnos,
Colin Sanford*

Katherine Mason Osnos, the daughter of Susan and Peter Osnos of Greenwich, Conn., was married yesterday to Colin Phelps Sanford, a son of Deborah Wilder Sanford and Mark Sanford of Orinda, Calif. Judge David S. Tatel of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit officiated in a meadow at the summer home of the bride's family in Lakeside, Mich.

Mrs. Sanford, 28, is a prekindergarten teacher at the Preschool at St. Agnes in Greenwich. She graduated from New York University and received a master's degree in education from the University of San Francisco. Her father is the publisher and founder of Public-Affairs, a division of the Perseus Books Group in New York. Her mother was until 2000 the associate director of Human Rights Watch, a nonprofit organization in New York, and works in Greenwich as a consultant to other human rights organizations on management, communications, program planning and hiring.

Mr. Sanford, 35, is a lending officer in Greenwich for the credit union division of the Royal Bank of Canada. He graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara. His mother is a therapist in the Shasta-Diablo chapter of Planned Parenthood in Antioch, Calif. His father is a consultant on sales techniques in Orinda.
